

COMPLETION OF M'ADDOO TUNNEL

FROM MANHATTAN TO JERSEY CITY IS ANNOUNCED.

TO BE OPENED ON MONDAY

Cost $300,000,000 and Has Been Under Construction Intermittently Since 1874.

New York, July 17.—The south tunnel of the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad Company, commonly known as the McAdoo tunnel, running under the North River from the Hudson Terminal buildings, Manhattan, to the Pennsylvania Railroad station, Jersey City, will be opened to traffic Monday. The entire tunnel system from the Hudson Terminal buildings to the Pennsylvania, Erie and Lackawanna railroad stations, will be completed and ready for operation on that day, but failure on the part of the car builders to deliver sufficient equipment makes it possible to operate then only that portion of the line from the Hudson Terminal buildings to the Pennsylvania railroad station.

The opening of the tunnel and the completion of the $300,000,000 system, which has been in course of construction intermittently since 1874, will be signified by a fitting celebration, Jersey City will be the scene of the principal celebration. When the first train starts on its trip Jerseyward Monday afternoon with the tunnel day, twenty passenger cars, twenty dynamite bombs will be exploded high in the air over the Pennsylvania railroad ferryhouse. Then every locomotive and factory whistle in the lower part of the town will be expected to get busy and every ferry and tug boat on the river will join in the racket.

The opening of the south tunnel marks the practical completion of the McAdoo system, which has been frequently adjudged to be the greatest and most costly engineering feat of the century, as well as the most comprehensive traffic arrangement ever devised. The project for tunnels to connect New York and New Jersey underneath the Hudson River was first broached in 1874. Dr. Whit Clinton Haskin, a civil engineer, of Clinton, who had been active in the construction of the Union Pacific railroad, drew the plans and made the surveys at his own expense.

Starting at Fifth Street, Jersey City, one hundred feet inside the river bulkhead, he began his first bore. The work was soon stopped by an injunction obtained by the Lackawanna railroad. A few years later the litigation was settled and Haskin's son succeeded in pushing in on until in 1880, when some 1,200 feet of the tunnel had been completed, the company failed. The work was abandoned for ten years until Benson and Son, the great English contracting firm, and Sir John Fowler and Sir Benjamin Baker, who built the bridge across the Forth in Scotland, became interested in the project and took it up again. Two years later the company again failed.

The work was revived in a short time, but it was not until William G. McAdoo, a young lawyer, took hold of the enterprise and organized the Hudson and Manhattan company that it was successfully carried on. The McAdoo system comprises four tunnels under the Hudson. The two north tunnels were opened last year.

And while this network of tunnels that connects New Jersey with New York, and which penetrates all over Manhattan Island, is a wonderful piece of engineering, the Terminal buildings, the great structures into which all of these tunnels terminate, is one of the marvels of the age. The structure consists of two buildings situated on Church street, from Cortlandt to Bay streets, and from Bay to Fulton. The buildings are 22 stories high above the surface and extend 75 feet below the surface to bed rock. Beneath these buildings is located the great terminal station, where 125,000 passengers will be discharged every morning during the busy hours, and where a like number will take the tunnel trains every night to return to their New Jersey homes.

The Terminal buildings constitute the largest office structure in the world. There is space on the 22 floors for 4,000 offices, and probably it will house more varied interests than any other office building on earth. One thousand persons a minute will pass through its corridors all day long, or 600,000 persons in the course of a day. Aside from this floating population, the buildings will have a permanent occupants at least 10,000 persons.

The great space beneath the buildings, where the terminal station is located, will constitute a variable city in itself. Here will be the great concourse, the largest to be found anywhere, waiting rooms, retiring rooms, telegraph stands, telephone booths and newspaper kiosks, restaurants, lunch counters, bookstalls, and every other convenience possible in a railroad station. The great concourse will be lined with stores and booths where the traveler may buy clothing, hats and haberdashery, groceries and hardware, photographic and optical supplies, drugs, furniture, automobile supplies and all of the other necessities of life.

GREECE VISITED BY SEVERE EARTHQUAKE

Six People Lost Lives and 75 Were Injured in Province of Elis Today.

Athens, Greece, July 17.—There was another earthquake in the Province of Elis today. Six people were killed and 75 injured in the villages of Upland and Dandak. Practically all the houses at the former place collapsed. The population of the stricken villages are lying in the open without shelter.

NEW YORK IS THE GAMBLER'S MECCA

Overthrow Of General Bingham Encourages Knights Of Green Cloth To Resume Operations—Wide Open Period May Be Brief.

(Special to THE GAZETTE.)

New York, July 17.—Whether the removal of Police Commissioner Bingham was the result of a political plot or merely of personal feeling against him on the part of the Mayor, and whether or not it will result in making the dogday army of deep the anti-fumming attitude of the city's chief executive office at the coming election, are questions that are still being debated. One result of the upheaval in the city's police department has become evident immediately. That is a retrogression toward the wide-open conditions of other days. Gamblers who had not been seen in their accustomed haunts for many moons have suddenly appeared along the Great White Way, coming from no one knows where. Pool rooms and gambling houses, the doors of which have been tightly barred for a long time, have resumed operations with scarcely an attempt at concealment. Three card monte men and other sharps of the "thin horn" variety have piled their craft wherever crowds have gathered. There is a general air of cheerfulness and prosperity among that part of the city's population which thrives by the gentle art of separating other people from their money. The new police commissioner declares emphatically that there has been no "lifting of the lid" but the fact seems to be that the lid has been pried up from underneath by the gamblers and grafters who see a chance for a harvest in the period of demoralization that inevitably follows an overturn in the management of the city's law-enforcing machinery. No matter how sincere the new police commissioners may be in their professions, it is certain to take them some time to "get who" to all that is going on in their departments, as was the case with Bingham and his aides. Meanwhile the element whose trade is to defy the law are flocking from all directions to profit by even a temporary let-up in the rule of stern repression imposed on them by General Bingham for the past three years.

That the disappearance of Wall Street, tested by its location in the world, is only a question of time, is the prediction of experts who base their claim on a careful study of existing conditions. While they admit that the speculative operations with which Wall Street is identified may continue undisturbed indefinitely, these experts assert that the time is not far distant when Wall Street will be as far out of the real city as was Harlem one hundred years ago, when that locality was regarded as an upstart community. Very naturally New York cannot expand to the south, east or west, unless the bay or the river be filled in, as was suggested by Thomas A. Edison some years ago, and for this reason it has been steadily growing northward until its center, once at the extreme southern limit of the city, is now at Forty-fourth street and is now at the rate of three city blocks a year, or a mile in every three years. At this rate the business center of the metropolis before twenty-five years have passed will be north of the Harlem River, or some ten miles from Wall Street, and no matter what improvements may be made in the rapid transit system there seems to be some ground for the belief that the city will not continue to maintain its financial center in an outlying district widely separated from its other lines of activity. How real this possibility of the natural abolishment of Wall Street is may be seen from the building record of the Bronx, the territory lying north of the Harlem River. During the first six months of this year no less than $22,000,000 has been expended for new buildings, a sum greater than that covering the whole preceding year.

While the lost and found articles reported from different parts of the city aggregate millions of dollars yearly and include almost every conceivable kind of property from lambs to grand pianos a new record in this direction was established this week with the discovery in Harlem of a vagrant street-car line, for which no owner can be located. The line in question is about a third of a mile in length. It does not connect with any other street car system and so far as can be ascertained no cars ever run over it. Apparently its construction never was authorized by the city authorities. Those who have tried to trace the history of this orphaned street railway in the heart of Greater New York believe that it was built by the old Sixth Avenue Railroad to prevent a rival line from obtaining a cross-town outlet. The Sixth Avenue road is now part of the Metropolitan surface system but the officers of the latter disclaim all responsibility for the street-car line. Residents along the line are now petitioning the city authorities to tear up the tracks which are of no use to anybody at present.

The devil and a real live devil at that—is soon to be on exhibition here, securely confined in a strong steel cage. The character in question is not, however, the person generally depicted with cloven hoof, horns and tail, but a four-legged one captured in Tasmania. This Tasmanian devil is not such an undesirable citizen as his name might indicate. He belongs to the badger family and comes to the Bronx Zoo as a member of the wildest animal party which ever reached the port. When these new arrivals are settled in their new home this city will have the largest and most complete zoological garden in the world, not even excepting that of London, which up to now has held the title. In addition to the Tasmanian devil the new arrivals number many strange specimens. There is a Cape hyrax, the original coney mentioned in the Bible. He looks some-

DISPOSED OF THE WOOL SCHEDULES

Conferees on the Tariff Bill Adopted Three Changes, All Reductions, Today.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, D. C., July 17.—The conferees on the tariff bill today disposed of the wool schedule, after adopting three changes—all reductions. Other duties agreed upon are the same as those fixed by the existing laws. They also agreed to a reduction of five per cent in the duty rates on women's and children's dress goods made of cotton warp.

NEWPORT SCENE OF A NAVAL WEDDING

Miss Helen Drury, Married—Lieut. James H. Tomb, Recently in Command of Torpedo Flotilla.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Newport, R. I., July 17.—The first wedding of the Newport season took place today when Miss Helen Drury, daughter of Pay Director William D. Drury, U. S. N., became the bride of Lieut. James Harvey Tomb, U. S. N., who, until recently, was in command of the torpedo boat flotilla in the Philippines. The ceremony was performed at noon in the fashionable St. John's church and was followed by a reception at the home of the bride.

William Fay, Famous as a Union Scout, Died at Lake Harbor, Mich. Today at Age of 87.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Muskegon, Mich., July 17.—William Fay, part owner, when the Civil war broke out, of the tobacco warehouse which became famous as Libby prison, and a well known scout after his Union sympathies forced him to leave his home in Richmond, Va., died today at his home at Lake Harbor, aged 87. Fay was a member of the grand jury which indicted Jefferson Davis for treason.

KILLED CHILDREN; TAKES OWN LIFE

Chicago Woman Takes This Method to Keep From Being Sent to Feeble Minded Home.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Chicago, July 17.—Suicide and murder, rather than confinement in an institution for the feeble-minded, was the choice of Mrs. Annie Schenck, whose dead body with those of her two sons, aged seven and eleven, respectively, was found in a gas-filled room in her home today. Such, at least, was the opinion of the husband of the dead woman.

The association membership represents a total output of 2,500,000 bricks a day and aggregates business amounting to more than $5,000,000 a year.

FUNERAL TODAY OF MADAME MODJESKA

Polish People Pay Last Tribute to Great Tragedienne Who Was Exiled from Native Land.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Cracow, July 17.—All that is mortal of the late Helena Modjeska, whose name will go down in history as one of the greatest emotional actresses ever seen on the stage in Europe and America, was consigned to its final resting place today. The funeral ceremonies which preceded the internment took place in St. Stanislaw's cathedral, which was elaborately draped with emblems of mourning. Admission was by ticket and the spacious edifice was crowded in all parts. The Polish people, well remembering that the famous tragedienne was exiled from her native land because of her efforts in behalf of their political freedom, turned out in full force to pay a last tribute to her memory. The outpouring upon which the remains of the actress lay in state for two days previous to the internment was piled high with magnificent wreaths and other floral offerings sent by famous players, literary and art societies and personal friends and admirers in many parts of Europe and America.

FANCY DODGING BY FRIGHTENED HORSES

Team Owned by Frank Fisher Performed Some Dangerous Circus Stunts This Morning.

One of the luckiest runaways that ever took place in this city occurred this morning at 10:15 when a heavy team of bay horses owned by Frank Fisher and hitched to a lumber wagon upon which were loaded nine thirty-foot telephone poles belonging to the Wisconsin Telephone company, took fright while standing at the fountain on the Corn Exchange and after doing some miraculous dodging were stopped at the corner of South Franklin and Pleasant streets by the weight of the poles which were dragging on the ground. At the time the incident occurred, there were a number of delivery wagons and buggies hitched about the exchange and it is considered a miracle that none were hit. Fisher, while the horses were drinking, had stepped into a shoe shop, when suddenly the horses became frightened, whirled the heavy load around the north corner of the exchange, missed an oncoming interurban car by the scant margin of a few inches, a string of delivery wagons by even less, and dashed madly down South Franklin Street. Opposite the post office they swerved slightly when a spectator attempted to stop them, and then, tempted by the overladen wagon turned end of the overloaded wagon turned turtle, allowing the poles to drag on the ground, which brought the team to a stop at the Corn Exchange church. The only damage sustained throughout the wild dash was a broken reach.

THE COMMONER AFTER TOGA OF ELMER J. BURKETT.

Omaha, Neb.—Richard L. Metcalf, editor of Mr. Bryan's publication, the Commoner, and a close personal friend of the late defeated candidate for the presidency stated that Mr. Bryan will be a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Elmer J. Burkett, the present incumbent and a Republican.

Coming from such a source, it is taken as the first positive announcement that has been made of the candidacy of Mr. Bryan for the senate. Democratic party leaders are already predicting the election of Bryan and content that the primary law passed last winter by the Nebraska legislature will pull him through. His friends declare his defeat is well-nigh impossible.

MAYOR BUSSE RELEASED FROM HOSPITAL TODAY

Chicago, Ill., July 17.—Mayor Busse, recently operated upon for appendicitis, was discharged from the hospital today.

FOREIGNERS MADE A DEMONSTRATION

Butler, Pa., July 17.—When the gates to the plant of the Standard Steel Car company at Lyndora, where the foreign workmen yesterday struck for higher wages, were thrown open today, the American workmen began entering as though there was no trouble. Several hundred foreigners endeavored to stop them and in a fight which followed a number of foreigners were injured. The foreigners are ugly and obstinate. All the windows of Lyndora are closed. In the event of further disorder the constabulary from Pottsville will be rushed to the scene.

ELKS' FESTIVITIES WERE ENDED TODAY

Entertainments in Honor of Elks' Grand Lodge at Los Angeles Brought to a Close.

CALHOUN'S NEW TRIAL MONDAY

SECOND NAVAL INQUIRY INTO DEATH OF LIEUT. SUTTON

GREAT PAGEANT AT BATH

During Coming Week Will Attract Attention Of "Fashionable World"—Columbian Congress At Bogota.

Washington, D. C., July 17.—The second trial of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railways of San Francisco, on charges of having offered a bribe to a supervisor to vote for an overhead trolley permit in 1904, is fixed to begin Monday. The first trial of Calhoun, which was concluded only a few weeks ago, resulted in a hung jury.

A board of officers will meet at the Naval Academy at Annapolis Monday to reinvestigate the death of Second Lieut. James Sutton, of the Marine Corps, who was mysteriously shot at Annapolis on Oct. 13, 1907. A court of inquiry held shortly after his death decided that he had committed suicide. The mother of the young officer, however, declares that she has evidence to prove that her son was murdered. The case has already attracted much attention and it is thought possible that developments of a sensational character may result from the reinvestigation.

The omnibus James Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore will celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of his birth Friday next. The event is one of interest not only to the people of Baltimore, but to those of the whole United States, in which he is the primate of the Roman Catholic church.

Republicans of Virginia are to meet in convention in Newport News to nominate candidates for governor and other state officers to be voted for at the next election. Although the state has heretofore been strongly Democratic, Republican leaders are decidedly in their favor this year, owing to dissensions in the Democratic party. A. P. Gillespie, a prominent lawyer of "Tazewell county," and a personal friend of President Taft, is mentioned for the head of the ticket.

Rear Admiral Edwin K. Moore, commandant of the Portsmouth navy yard, will be placed on the retired list Saturday on account of age. Captain Frank A. Winer, who for some time has been in command of the cruiser Pennsylvania, has been named to succeed Rear Admiral Moore at Portsmouth.

The city of Bath, famous as the resort of the English world of fashion in the days of Chesterfield and Beau Nash, is to be the scene during the week of a historical pageant which promises to eclipse in brilliancy all of the similar spectacles that have been held in England during the past few years. For Americans the celebration at Bath has been given added interest by the invitation extended by the English city to all of the cities and towns in the United States bearing the same name to send representatives to the pageant. There are more than a dozen cities and towns in the United States of the name of Bath and several of them have accepted the invitation.

Washington will follow with close interest the proceedings of the Columbian Congress which is to assemble in Bogota Tuesday. The latest advice from the South American republic report a very critical condition of affairs there. As the result of the hurried departure of President Reyes for Europe, the various political parties, which a few months ago seemed to be united, are now completely disorganized, and there are indications that Colombia is on the verge of a great revolution.

MAKES GOOD FLIGHT FOR A TROPHY CUP

May However Lose It Owing to His Not Having Complied With All the Requirements.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Minneapolis, N. Y., July 17.—A flight of twenty-four and seven-tenths miles in 53 minutes and 43 seconds, was made today by Glenn H. Curtiss in his aeroplane over the Hempstead plains course for a cup offered by the Scientific American.

Curtiss may lose the Scientific American prize he failing to comply with the conditions requiring the aeroplane shall not soar more than 25 kilometers over a measured course, but also land within three hundred meters of the starting place. Curtiss failed to meet the conditions through the fear he had not sufficient gasoline to carry him to the starting point.

Later the judges decided that Curtiss had complied with all the terms of the competition. He will win the Scientific American cup, which he also captured last year at Hammondsport, N. Y., unless his flight is excelled before the end of the year.

Juarez Anniversary

City of Mexico, July 17.—Arrangements are being made for the customary observance tomorrow of the anniversary of the death of Benito Juarez, the Mexican patriot. Elaborate programs have been prepared by Juarez societies throughout Mexico. President Diaz and other high officials of state will attend the anniversary exercises to be held at the tomb of the patriot.

Centennial at Norwalk

Norwalk, O., July 17.—The elaborate preparations for Norwalk's centennial celebration and home-coming week were completed today. The entire city is tastefully decorated. The celebration will begin tomorrow with special religious services in all the churches. Throughout the week there will be reunions, historical exercises, parades, concerts, athletic sports and a variety of carnival attractions.

SUCCESS OF GREAT EVENT IS NOW FULLY ASSURED

Every Vicinity to be Represented in Fine List of Candidates to

STILL TIME TO NOMINATE—
EVERY LADY ELIGIBLE—
OLD OR YOUNG, MAR-RIED OR UNMARRIED.

Only Seven Weeks Remain in Which to Win One of These Magnificent Prizes.

NOMINATION BLANK.

After a lady has been nominated, it is necessary to write ONLY her name on the nomination blank. If she has not been nominated it is then necessary to fill in your name, as the person making the nomination.

SAVE all nomination blanks and coupons, as they count twenty-five and ten votes respectively, and each and every one can be voted for your favorite candidate.

The coupon must be in the office on or before the expiration of the date printed on it.

Tonight marks the closing of the first week of this great contest that has sprung into immediate favor in this city and surrounding country.

The management is highly pleased with the interest accorded this event and promises that Monday evening's issue will contain as fine a list of popular young ladies as could be desired.

The greatest care has been taken by The Gazette in selecting prizes of such value that the winners in this contest will feel justly proud of their success, not only because they were won through personal effort and ambition, but from the fact that they are also valuable, appropriate and useful.

Ambition and perseverance will constitute the two principal factors and everyone entering will have an equal show as "impartiality" is our motto.

If you are going to enroll as a candidate in this contest, look up your district, send in your name at once and remember a steady pull will soon bring your name to the top of the list.

It cannot be too strongly urged upon those who have not entered the contest, that now is the time to start. The earlier you begin the greater opportunity you will have for collecting your friends and getting them to work for you.

This exceptional opportunity is open to all ladies and the ambitious and enterprising ones will not fail to take advantage of it.

Conditions of the Contest.
Every lady is eligible to compete in this contest, who is of good character, and a resident of one of the districts, whether married or unmarried, young or old.

Candidates may nominate themselves.

Original nominations must be accompanied by the proper address of the candidate.

Nominations may be made on nomination coupon or by letter.

Votes will be given on all paid subscriptions to The Gazette, according to the accompanying schedule of votes.

Votes cannot be purchased—every cent must represent a subscription.

All votes secured on subscriptions are good until the end of the contest and may be polled at the direction of the candidate or subscriber.

Votes are not transferable.

Votes will be allowed on subscriptions secured anywhere in or out of Janesville.

Contestants have a perfect right to get votes in any part of the field they may choose to work.

Office Will Be Open.

In order to accommodate patrons and candidates who will be unable to call at the office during business hours, arrangements have been made to keep the office open every evening. If you are interested in this splendid contest, and the opportunity it gives to win a prize worthy of the quest of any woman, write, telephone or call on the Contest Manager at The Gazette office. He will be pleased to give you any information you may want, and will furnish you free with all necessary blanks and information with which to conduct a campaign for votes.

DISCUSSES CITY AFFAIRS

Takes Up Question of the Street Railways—Talk on the Streets in General.

To the Editor:
There is such a thing as becoming a decided hater to even an editor and I trust that I may not be one classed in that list of unfortunates. I have been the editors are always having complaints about this subject or that and patiently listen to the wrongs of mankind in general. It is part of their duty I suppose. However, I have a few thoughts today I would like to air to the public.

I might put them in the form of questions. First let us take up the fire police matter. Is the common council going to see this worthy organization go out of existence without some effort to preserve it? By financial aid? I read with interest the bit of history in the Gazette the other day and then pondered over the condition that exists. I have known this organization for many years, have seen their efficient work at blazes both large and small, and should be most sorry to see it put out of existence for the sake of a few hundred dollars each year.

The Janesville fire police do a work that other cities pay large salaries to have done and they do not ask one cent in pay. In Chicago and other cities the insurance police, who do the same duty as the local company, are the first at the fire and are the first to begin saving the property. However, I am sorry to say that they appear to be a petty jealousy existing between the regular paid department and the fire police here.

I am informed that under the orders of the chief of the fire department the fire police patrol wagon must wait until the other wagons in the East Side engine house have the floor before they can start. The other day an accident occurred which illustrated that valuable time is lost by this order. An alarm was sounded and the horses jumped to their places. The fire police patrol was ready to start but one of the horses of the hose wagon refused to put his head down to where the driver could snap in the bit.

In fact, the driver had to find a chair, climb on it, and then slip the bridle in place before he could start his team. Valuable time lost—some two or three minutes at most—and all this time the wagon with chemicals attached and men ready to operate was kept waiting. In cities where an insurance patrol is kept this wagon is the first out of the barn and often does the work before the other departments arrive.

It is up to the business men of the city to urge the council to act on this matter and act promptly. All petty differences should be forgotten and for the good of the whole city a united action in preserving this organization is the remedy.

What is Janesville going to do with the street car system? This might be the caption for an article all of its own. The line is a disgrace to the city. Its superintendent, Mr. Murphy, is an able and efficient man and does the best he can with the material furnished him by the owners in Philadelphia. He can not secure new cars, cannot lay new tracks or make other improvements because he has not the funds to do it with.

If the Janesville car line is worth anything to its owners it ought to be worth caring for. Some citizen could make a reputation for himself by demanding, as a taxpayer, that the franchise of the local company be revoked unless they put the line in good condition and make it safe and comfortable to ride over. A city attorney could win a name if he could push a reform of the street car system through the council and every alderman who voted for compelling the owners of the line to make their service good would be sure of reelection.

Yesterday morning an aged lady, carried by her corner, standing on the foot platform as she was ready to alight, was thrown beneath the car wheels and her foot ground off. It is surprising to me that more people are not killed or injured by the system. The cars race down Main street at full speed. A child crossing the street would be run down and crushed long before the motorman could stop his car. Every day people are carried past the corner they wish to stop at and otherwise inconvenienced.

In Madison, if the conductor fails to call off the street corner he is brought into the police court and fined. Here, in Janesville, if the car stops within a hundred feet of the crossing you want to get off at, the passenger is lucky. In behalf of a local street car has a flat wheel the council passes an order to revoke the company's franchise if the car is not repaired. Janesville the cars make so much noise with broken-down motors and flat wheels, that persons using phones adjacent to the car tracks can not hear over them.

There is no city in the country that would permit such a disgrace to exist without protest, as does Janesville. It makes me almost as mad to think about it as was the young husband who spent from quarter of one until twenty minutes of three trying to reach one of the local central offices the other night when his wife was in a critical condition and needed medical care. Then when the sleepy girl at the other end of the line did answer she said "No-number" just as though provoked at being awakened.

What is going to be done with the streets? This is my third division. The streets of Janesville are in a disgraceful condition. Years ago there was a certain alderman in the council who believed in keeping his constituents at work. He also said that the one way of doing this was the building of new streets, and he went to work to build them. Back after block of city streets were improved and macadamized. True, the macadam came from a stone quarry also run to keep constituents busy, but the streets were built.

building, and today we have a lot of miserable, poor excuses for streets all over the city—streets that are a disgrace to a pretense of doing business. A load of gravel here, a few hours with the steam roller, and they are thought to be repaired. I do not advocate a wholesale construction of streets at wholly expense to property holders, but I would like to see at least one street or so a year improved.

There is no excuse for the laxity of this department—no excuse for the aldermen who insist on improvements of other kinds and neglect the streets. A good roadway is an asset to any community. Janesville would be declared insolvent and badly in debt if its roads and streets were taken as its assets. Evolve some plan whereby the taxation will not be so great and the streets can be improved, brother aldermen.

Where is the tree-trimmer? This is another question I would ask. Last year Ald. Clark introduced an ordinance relative to the trimming of the shade trees that overhang the walks and streets. It was a good move. Property-holders seem forgetful of the necessity for this work and it might be a good thing to have an official tree-trimmer just as the first English governor of New York City had an official eavesdropper that hung over the streets and poured the water from the roofs onto unwary pedestrians. The old Dutch property is like the Janesville property-owner and needs an official tree-trimmer to aid him in his deliberations.

And last, but not least, how about the sudden increase in crimes in the city? Is it not possible to have a dog tax and have it enforced so as to rid the city of the unbecomingly assertive of curs that snap and bark at every team, chase every automobile, and snarl and fight night and day?

PRACTICAL BUSINESS EDUCATION

Our Public Schools cannot properly provide for this essential training and the result is, we have the Modern College in our midst for the purpose. Just as the Medical School prepares for medicine, the Law School for law, the Pharmacy College for the profession of Druggist, so does the first-class Business College prepare students for business. As these schools as yet are private enterprises, not under government inspection, the standard varies to a great extent. As a result, some Business Schools are good, others are good for nothing.

We desire to call attention to one of the former class—
The Good School And to explain the reason why our College is a good College—worthy of the patronage of the person who has had little education as well as that of the university graduate.

- 1st. We provide a staff of capable teachers—specialists in their work, not theorists or student teachers.
- 2nd. We are able to give the necessary individual attention to the backward student and to properly direct the course of the higher student.
- 3rd. We possess fine equipment and give courses that are thorough and right up-to-date in every detail.
- 4th. We give special prominence to such essentials as Writing, Rapid Figuring, Spelling, Bookkeeping, Shorthand and Typewriting for actual office work, as well as prepare students for the highest tests of the Civil Service. Ours is the ONLY SCHOOL in Southern Wisconsin that has adopted the standard set by the Wisconsin Commercial Educators' Association, an organization composed of the BEST Business Schools of the State, affiliated with the College of Commerce, University of Madison, to elevate the standard of commercial education.
- 5th. We train and develop our students to a high standard of proficiency so that they secure and hold the best salaried positions in the largest business firms.

LEONOR F. LOREE, "the man who made good at Johnstown."

New York.—As E. H. Harriman gradually gives up detailed control of the various railroads which he owns, it is confidently predicted that Leonor F. Loree will be the man to take up the work. Loree's rapid advancement during the last few years is the talk of all railroad men. At present he is one of the few who have secured a place among the captains of industry.

Back at the time of the Johnstown flood Loree was an unknown division engineer. The exigencies of the case required prompt attention, for the railroads suffered enormous losses at that time. Bridges washed out and miles of track had to be repaired. Loree, who chanced to be the most available man, was placed in command. His marvelous powers of endurance attracted the attention of those higher up for during the succeeding weeks he scarcely slept or ate. From daylight until darkness he was on the job and at night he handled his vast accumulation of correspondence and spent Sundays cleaning up his work. His accomplished wonders and his efforts were appreciated, for he was jumped over night from his position as division engineer to that of general manager, an advancement unparalleled in railroading.

Leonor Loree was born in Fulton City, Ill. He is a graduate of Rutgers college and has been in the railroad service since 1877. Since he proved his worth at Johnstown his advancement has been rapid, until in 1891 he was made president first of the Baltimore and Ohio and then of the Rock Island system, and since 1897 of the Delaware and Hudson systems. He is well known in New York, where he now makes his home. He holds the special confidence of E. H. Harriman.

Then He Is Known as Successful.
There's hardly anything so good for a man's standing in a community as to get a lot of some other man's money away from him.—New York Press.

A NEW SHAH HAS BEEN NAMED

SULTAN AHMED MIRZA ASCENDS PERSIAN THRONE WHEN FATHER FLEES.

VICTORY FOR NATIONALISTS

Ruler a Minor and Azad ul Mulk is Proclaimed Regent—Dethroned Monarch, Refugee in Russian Legation, Protected by Czar's Troops.

Teheran, July 17.—The war of the Nationalists for a new rule in Persia was perfected today, when the crown prince, Sultan Ahmed Mirza, who was proclaimed shah yesterday, was placed on the throne abdicated by Mohamed Ali. It is now believed the fighting will cease.

Mohamed Ali has taken refuge in the Russian summer location at Zorand where he is under the protection of detachments of Cossacks and Sepoys, dispatched to Zorand by the Russian and British diplomatic representatives.

Shah a Minor; Regent Appointed. The new shah is yet in his minority, and Azad ul Mulk, head of the Kajar family, has been appointed regent. Sipahdar, one of the most active leaders of the movement, has taken office as minister of war, and governor of Teheran. Gen. Liakhoff, through whose negotiations with the Nationalists the surrender was effected, was escorted by mounted Bakhtiari riflemen to the parliament building and was greeted with loud applause by the people. He was informed that he might remain temporarily in command of the Cossack brigade provided he strictly obeyed the orders of the war minister. This arrangement was communicated to the British and Russian legations.

The shops and private houses occupied by the shah's soldiers have been plundered and the residence of the manager of the Indo-European Telegraph Company has been looted.

New Shah Twelve Years Old.

No decision has been reached as to the disposition of the dethroned monarch but it is probable that he will be banished and sent out of the country under a Russian escort. The new shah is 12 years of age. He was declared heir apparent at the time his father ascended the throne. Arrangements had been made to send him to England to be educated.

An exciting incident marked the arrival of Gen. Liakhoff at the Russian bank to meet the Bakhtiari chief. As the gate opened to admit Gen. Liakhoff's carriage, a man rushed through and was immediately shot dead by one of the soldiers of the regiment holding the square. Tremendous excitement followed and firing broke out in all directions.

Russians Hear of Abdication. St. Petersburg, July 17.—The Russian foreign office received a dispatch from M. Sabolin, chargé d'affaires at Teheran, saying the shah had taken refuge at Zorand. The shah was accompanied by his wife and one of his sons and a small party of loyal adherents, and his action was in accordance with an arrangement previously worked out by the Russian and British legations.

M. Sabolin immediately informed the British diplomatic representative of the shah's arrival and a convoy of Sepoys was forthwith dispatched to Zorand. During the shah's stay at that place protection will be furnished by a joint detachment of Cossacks and Sepoys.

Russian Troops at Kasvin. The full strength of the Russian expedition is now at Kasvin and, if necessary, the cavalry could get to Teheran in two days. The foreign office is under the impression that a detachment probably will be required, not so much to protect the shah or to oppose the Bakhtiari tribesmen as to handle the street mobs and the Teheran rabble, which is bent on pillage. The troops inevitably will be sent in if a single Russian is killed or if a foreign mission requests protection. In this event the role of the troops would be confined to "police" duties. Both the Russian officers and the officials of the Russian legation at Teheran have been enjoined to remain strictly neutral in internal affairs.

Chance for a Bet.

Atchison people seem determined to force a certain bachelor to marry. For 20 years they have been "talking" about him, and wondering if he is going to marry this one or that one. Why can't people let the poor man alone? If he wants to be a bachelor, whose business is it? Every time he "goes" with a new girl, Atchison people begin betting on the result. (And incidentally we will bet five to one that his present steady doesn't land him.)—Atchison Globe.

Bagged a White Tiger.

From India comes a story of an Albinos tiger. A white tiger, eight feet eight inches in length, has been shot at Dhenana state, Orissa. The ground color was pure white and the stripes were of a deep reddish black. The skin was presented to the rajah of Dhakana, who has had it mounted and placed in his palace. The hunters of that country say that it is the only white tiger they have seen.

Why the Eagle?

"As free as a bird in the air," we say. Now, all the birds of the air the eagle is king, and, therefore, of all birds he is the freest. This fact, coupled with the eagle's independence, self-reliance and unconquerable courage, caused it to be chosen as the emblem of the youngest and greatest of republics.—New York American.

LYTHOID USES

Residences

Lythoid makes an excellent roof for any residence and can be applied so as to present an attractive appearance. Its slate colored effect is very slightly. A half round moulding used on the eaves in place of the eaves and nails adds to its looks. Laid from ridge to gutter. One or two ply used.

Factories

Lythoid cannot be surpassed for factory roofing. It is just as durable as the gravel roof generally used and considerably cheaper because of the large saving in labor of applying; also much cheaper to keep in repair. Two or three ply used.

Barns

A barn covered with Lythoid roofing laid from ridge to gutter presents an appearance that cannot be accomplished with shingles. Driving rain or sleet cannot sift through, neither will the roof catch fire by sparks or embers from a burning stack or building. One or two ply used.

Porch Roofs, Gutters, Etc.

Don't pay a big price to have tin for your porch roof, decks, gutters, valleys, etc. Use Lythoid and get more wear for less money. It can't rust or decay.

Auto Sheds Boat Houses

Nothing better. One ply used. A dark green building and a gray Lythoid roof make a pleasing combination.

Poultry Houses

Lythoid Roofing is peculiarly adapted for poultry buildings, being wind, vermin and rat proof. It can't be beat. One ply used.

We have yet to find a place where Lythoid does not make a thoroughly satisfactory roof.

custom in passing romance and journalism to talk of men suffering under old tyrannies. But, as a fact, men have almost always suffered under new tyrannies; under tyrannies that had been public liberties hardly twenty years before.

A great number of towns and villages, scattered over the country, are monuments to this "let well enough alone" principle. The same dilapidated sidewalks, neglected streets, and unpainted houses mark the ravages of time, and tell the story of penny-wise economy.

The businessmen in this class of towns die of dry rot and charge the responsibility to mail order houses and department stores. They fail to recognize the fact that there is neither love nor sentiment in business and that their best friends buy goods where they think they can buy the cheapest. If this class of merchants hold the trade of their own families, they are doing more than they have any right to expect.

Trusts and combines, concentration of forces in almost every channel of business, represent not so much the greed of promoters and capital, as the demand on the part of the people for better service. The middleman is always the victim, for he is the man with whom the people have no sympathy, when looking for bargains.

The day of the shoemaker, the harness-maker, and to large extent, the merchant tailor, is a thing of the past, for the manufacturer has come so close to the people that the small artisan has been crowded out; yet the people are satisfied, and but passing thought is given to the expiring trade.

These changes, due to the steady march of progress, did not occur in a night, and the men who were in the path of the procession, and likely to be hurt, had ample warning, and some of them were wise enough to join the ranks, and move on with the tide.

Back in the years, at the close of the war, an old man who had been postmaster in a country town for 20 years, was much disturbed by the report that a younger man was to succeed him. "What," he said, "take away my postoffice?" and he really thought he owned it, for a sense of proprietorship had grown on him.

The day has passed when men own any kind of business, either by right of inheritance or long-continued service, for the time has come when the principle of "the greatest good to the greatest number" is fully recognized.

There is no territory too sacred to be invaded by competition, and no disposition on the part of the people to check it. The successful man, in any kind of business, must belong to the progressive class.

The same old farm, shut in by the old familiar horizon, but the cradle and scythe, and old-fashioned machinery are not in evidence, and so the old-time methods in many callings have given place to the ever-increasing demands of progress.

If generations expired in a night, and the new one took possession the next morning the "old-timers" of every class might live out their day, undisturbed, but this is not the order of things.

The change of administration is so gradual, that the current of new blood is scarcely perceptible until it gains control, when improvements are well in hand.

One of the old theories regarding the human body is that it changes every seven years. Old tissue is replaced by new and increased strength and vitality ward off diseases so that people in normal condition live out allotted time.

Much is written nowadays about the care of the body, the laws of health, and rules to be observed to prolong life. The modern sleeping room is a gymnasium, where all sorts of physical stunts are performed by the clock, and cleanliness is so much ahead of Godliness that the cold bath has taken the place of the morning devotions.

While it is well to know how we are built and how to keep ourselves in repair, it is interesting to know that many people manage to live too long without this kind of knowledge.

An old man died, the other day, at the age of 92. There was no sign of disease about him, but the clock of time had run down, and the machinery was worn out.

He knew nothing about the laws of health for he never owned a tooth brush nor a night shirt, and he had been a smoker for 75 years. Not an exceptional case, for they are found in almost every community.

The secret which contributes to their longevity is an open secret. Their lives have been spent largely in the air and sunshine, and they possess the happy faculty of letting the other fellow worry.

These people who live on borrowed time and encroach on the preserve of the next generation, are usually conservative people, so well balanced that the body has been able to keep pace with the mind and so there has been no friction during the long journey.

They are object lessons worth studying for, it is well to be thus balanced. It insures against the most common of all diseases, for the mind and not the body is the chief of attack.

The medical profession are recognizing this fact, and drugless healing is no longer confined to Christian Science and the osteopath.

The young man who faces life with a pure heart and clean mind, determined to work out a destiny through honest service, attending strictly to his own business, and letting his neighbor do the same, is on the way to success.

So the democratic members of the lower house were able to bat out the

the world might seem; but now, alas, too late! I see that all the depth of infancy have solved me with their reading shame, and so it's time to quit the game."

Victory on the baseball diamond that they can not win from their republican brethren in the actual sessions of the house.

Opportunity is knocking at the White House door and President Taft is on the inside ready to let Opportunity walk right in and sit down. No delay there.

"Jim" Hill is certainly a peer of the first water and future stories of forthcoming prosperity must have his official sanction if they are to be believed.

Not until the freight cars run short again will the people begin to miss the proposed waterways and complain that nothing has been done.

Mr. Taft has added Marian Grey to gain her freedom and in this has put his official sanction on matrimonial agencies.

Roosevelt has at last killed a "bloodsucking blemish of Italy," and is about ready to come home for a rest.

Western rivers are affecting their banks in a most threatening manner and the bank deposit guarantees law in no ways aids them either.

It is only when a car goes away from home that he really learns how little the common people think of him.

When the aeroplane breaks down, but also when the submarine sinks, where you then, but also when the submarine sinks, then where are you?

This is certainly a bad year for rulers with a superfluity of wives, to say the least.

Back in the years, at the close of the war, an old man who had been postmaster in a country town for 20 years, was much disturbed by the report that a younger man was to succeed him. "What," he said, "take away my postoffice?" and he really thought he owned it, for a sense of proprietorship had grown on him.

Heart to Heart Talks.
By EDWIN A. NYE.
(Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.)

DO SOMETHING FOR SOMEBODY.
Helps for unhappiness:
Think only of yourself, care only for yourself, labor only for yourself. Mix and use daily.
If you doubt the formula, look about you. Note the effects of self-love—from ennui to suicide.
A new, clean play now being produced in New York city illustrates the extreme effect of selfishness:
A rich old man has lived a self-centered life. He thinks only of his ill. He takes fright at every symptom of disease. He concludes he is in a bad way. Learned physicians confirm his fears. He decides to commit suicide.
The miserable old man takes a room in a cheap tenement on the east side and prepares to blow out his brains.
Just as he raises the pistol to his temple a ragged, forlorn young girl steps into the room. She tells the old man of her troubles—real troubles, troubles that harass the mind and harrow the heart. But she says she is not complaining; she is making a brave fight to save her womanhood and is hopeful of victory.
The old man becomes ashamed of his troubles, which, after all, are largely imaginary troubles.
He becomes interested in the girl's brave and hopeful fight. He throws away the pistol. And the sequel of the play is the restoration of the old man to health and the success of the girl.
In helping another the old man helped himself.
Which is the law of life.
The play is but another repetition, in fact, of the old story of the man who, noting that his comrades are freezing to death, forgets his own growing numbness and works to restore the other, with the result that both are saved.
So that the recipe for happiness is the reverse of the other one. It is—Think of others, care for others, work for others. Apply liberally.
Fortunately for society, we are so constructed that to be happy we must make others happy. Selfishness carries its own punishment. Generosity is its own reward.
Trite and commonplace?
Yes, but true!
Self luxury leads to actual misery. Selfishness is such a burden that men will drink to drown it or kill themselves because of it.
The recipe is correct.
Do something for somebody. Do something worth while—and be happy. Do nothing—and be miserable.

Uncle Walt of Emporia
By WALT MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthews Adams.)

His days were joyous and serene, his life was pure, his record clear; folks named their children after him, and he was in the so-called elite swim; ambitious lads would say: "I plan to be just such a worthy man!" But in the fullness of his years, the tempter whispered in his ears, and begged that he would make the race for county judge, or some such place. And so he yielded to his fate, and came forth as a candidate. The night before election day they found him lying, cold and gray, the dearest man in all the land this message in his icy hand: "The papers that opposed my race have brought me into deep disgrace; I find that I'm a dead unloosed; I robbed a widow's chicken roost, and stole an orphan's Easter egg, and swiped a soldier's wooden leg. I killed a heathen of his jaws, and later kidnapped Charlie Ross; I leaped, with something like alarm, that I designed the Guinness farm, and also, with excessive grief, that Black Hand cohorts call me chief. I thought myself a decent man, whose record

EYES AND EYEGLASSES
There are two ways that are principally used by those fitting Glasses—one, to make vision as bright as possible; the other, to make vision as comfortable as possible. One may be said to be unnatural, the other natural. We use the latter, the natural way, and the result is evident by our reception room being constantly occupied during office hours with people to have their eyes examined.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THIS?

"The child with poor teeth probably will become the murderer, burglar or defective of the future."

"The embryo criminal may be changed into a preacher or a great civic teacher by a simple dental operation."

"The teeth of children charged with crime should be examined by an expert and if found defective they should be put in first-class order by the state."

No declared Dr. Henry J. Janusz, dentist, of Pittsburgh, now in Chicago to study the teeth of youthful offenders at the John Worthing school, the beldwell and delinquent children of the schools.

Dr. Janusz says he can look at the teeth of a child and tell instantly what the criminal tendencies are, if any exist.

"After numerous tests I am convinced that it is more important to look after a child's teeth than to send him to Sunday school or a reformatory," he explained. "The teeth of the majority of children are neither properly cleaned nor regulated."

PILGRIMAGE TO OLD HOMESTEAD

LOYAL TEMPERANCE LEGION
MEMBERS VISIT SCENE OF
FRANCES WILLARD'S
CHILDHOOD.

OFFICERS ELECTED TODAY

Session Have Been Replete With Interesting Meetings—Oratorical Contest This Evening.

This afternoon at two the delegates to the Loyal Temperance Legion in annual session at the English Lutheran church, made their pilgrimage to the childhood home of the late Frances Willard. Before starting the sight of the delegates and Loyal Temperance workers was a most pretty one and the pilgrimage, a fitting tribute to the memory of the departed worker in the cause they represent, was the climax of their interesting sessions.

Large carriages were used to convey the delegates to the farm and here simple but impressive services were held. Mrs. W. H. Campbell of Evansville led in the worship, which was followed by an excellent address on Frances Willard, by Edith Lewis.

Mrs. W. A. Lawson then sang a solo, "In the Secret of His Presence," and Miss Margaret Whittington, of Evansville, Ill., national secretary, gave a talk, "The school home where Frances Willard taught for a short time was also visited."

It was by far the most interesting feature of the entire convention and many of those who attended wandered about the farm and school yard where their teacher had waited in actual life. The barn where she was thought to have had her first vision of the reform she began was burned several years ago, but its location is marked by the ruins of a second barn which burned last week.

The following officers were elected to the Loyal Temperance Legion:

President—Miss Mary Money, of Milwaukee.

Vice-President—Miss Percy Palmer, of Albany.

General State Secretary—Miss Inez Charles, of Albany.

Corresponding Secretary—Miss Myrtle Millspaugh, of Brooklyn.

Recording Secretary—Florence Piller, of Brooklyn.

Treasurer—Florence Heinze, of Wisconsin.

The following is a list of the delegates here for the gathering:

Miss Margaret Whittington, national secretary, Evansville, Ill.

Mrs. Inez Charles, general state secretary, Albany, Wis.

Mrs. W. W. Law, state lecturer and organizer, Milwaukee, Wis.

Mrs. W. A. Lawson, state organizer, Milwaukee, Wis.

Arnett Northrup, state organizer of Illinois, Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. W. H. Campbell, county president of W. C. T. U., Evansville, Wis.

Miss Mary Money, state president, Milwaukee, Wis.

Mrs. M. A. B. Smith, superintendent of legislative work for Wisconsin, Milwaukee, Wis.

Miss Edith Wilcox, county organizer, Milton, Wis.

Other delegates are: Grace Harvey, Ethel Morgan, Mrs. W. T. Morgan, Superior, Wis.; Mary R. Kunkel, Columbia, Wis.; Percy Palmer, Albany, Wis.; Emma R. Padon, Mineral Point; Florence Heinze, Wisconsin; Grace K. Rowland, Mrs. Wm. Kaye, Ernest Johnson, Lake Geneva; Florence Roberts, Stoughton; Mrs. Emily Parmenter, Plymouth; Mrs. Wilcox, Harmony; Mrs. Alton, Livingston; Miss Carroll Livingston, Livingston; Miss Colla Ordway, Hancock; Mrs. A. H. Fench, Plainfield; Miss Florence Roberts, Miss Ruby Watson, Stoughton; Miss Hannah Vorhees, Clinton; Mrs. Philip Runkel, Columbia; Miss Percy Palmer, Albany; Mrs. W. H. Campbell, Evansville; Mrs. Fannie Dower, Newcastles, Ind.; Ward Hubby, Stoughton; Clarence Onwood, Stoughton; Emma Padon, Mineral Point; Florence Piller, Edna Rasmussen, Ida Curless, Brooklyn; Nettie Reed, Waukegan; Ward Lady, Clarence Onwood, Stoughton; Ida M. Alton, Livingston; Mrs. A. H. Fench, Plainfield; Deborah Hortsrang, Oregon; Miss H. M. Vorhees, Clinton; Angeline Hartlein, Oregon; E. E. Patterson, Deloit, Dora Miller, Stoughton; Dora Burnett, Stoughton; Mrs. A. A. Porter, Miss Gladys Porter, Portage, Wis.

Great enthusiasm marked the proceedings of the Senior Loyal Temperance Legion held at the Carroll memorial church last evening. The four contestants for the gold medal in the Junior Oratorical Contest made a very pretty fight for first honors. Although three entries of the four were from Jansville, the medal does not remain in the city, but becomes the property of Miss Carol Livingston of Oregon, whose oration, "The Sins and Nine," was awarded the palm by the judges.

The other contestants and their orations were: Ruth Seifert, "Yes, I'm Guilty"; Willard Field, "The Barren's Dream"; Daley Jones, "Colony of Old Cans." All the entrants are holders of silver medals which they have won in former contests, and which are necessary before the speaker can be registered for the gold medal. The presentation was made by Miss W. H. Campbell of Evansville, County Superintendent of the W. C. T. U.

Next in importance to the contest for the gold medal was the presentation of diplomas to those members who had successfully passed the examinations and which was also a part of the program Friday evening. These diplomas certify that the holders have studied for and passed the examinations which must be taken before the member is authorized to teach. Six members received the diplomas which were presented by Miss Margaret Whittington, National Secretary, after a short address. They were: Mrs. H. H. Hortsrang, Mrs. W. H. Campbell, Mrs. W. H. Campbell, Mrs. W. H. Campbell, Mrs. W. H. Campbell, Mrs. W. H. Campbell.

At eight o'clock last evening the six graduates marched to their places in the Carroll Memorial Church, and after the hymn "Coronation" had been sung, Rev. Wm. Passavant, Christy of St. Peter's English Lutheran Church ## conducted short services.

Throughout the remainder of the program, which consisted of the orations in the Junior Gold Medal contest, the presentation of the medal and diplomas, musical numbers were rendered by Mr. A. Arnett Northrup, a Chicago burlesque, who sang two solos very effectively. A duet by Fred Murphy and Carl Ascheroff was also rendered with great applause, as were solos by Stanley Harwood, assisted by the Junior Quartet, and Mrs. W. A. Lawson, President of the State W. C. T. U. The evening's program closed with a Benediction by Rev. Christy.

Time Getting Short.

Remarkable how time flies. There remains now but 14 days in which to close out Holmstrom's entire business, $8,000 of drugs, fancy goods, etc. Prices have been cut so low for it's the opportunity to stock up for a year to come. Drop in and look over the stock. Holmstrom.

R. A. Dreyer a Pharmacist: According to advices from Milwaukee, the state board of examiners yesterday granted a pharmacist's certificate to R. A. Dreyer of this city.

$600 DAMAGE TO THE DOHENY HOME

Was Caused by Fire Which Broke Out During Early Morning—Vacant House Ablaze Last Night.

Fire, communicated to the roof of the dwelling house from a defective chimney, did damage estimated at from $500 to $750 to the home of Philip Doheny, 913 St. Mary's Ave., at an early hour this morning. The damage was caused out for a long time. The fire broke out from a defective chimney, and the blaze well under way. Chemical, principally, were used in extinguishing the flames. About half of the roof was destroyed.

Blaze Last Evening.

About nine o'clock last evening the fire department was called out to attend a blaze at a vacant story and a half frame dwelling house owned by Milo Curtis and located at the corner of Center and Grand avenues. A pile of coarse excelsior adjoining the kitchen had been ignited, either by small boys or a spark from a passing locomotive. There was no hydrant in the vicinity and the steamer from the Spring Brook station was hurried thither. It was not called into service, however, as the flames were quickly extinguished with chemicals. The interior of the kitchen and the south portion of the roof were damaged to some extent. Negroes recently occupied the building and prior to that time it was tenanted by Italians.

Fire Chief Henry C. Klein had a narrow escape from a serious accident while driving to the scene. In front of the Wisconsin Canning Co.'s factory on West Milwaukee street a John who has made a practice of trailing along and getting in the way of the department on former occasions, drove his hack diagonally across the street in front of the chief, obscuring from the latter's vision two large piles of dirt on either side of the thoroughfare which had been left there by sewer excavators. In order to prevent a collision, Mr. Klein had to swerve his swiftly-moving horse to one side of the street and as he did so, the vehicle struck the dirt heap with great force and lifted the driver about six feet in the air. That he landed on the edge of the seat and did not lose hold of the reins was a lucky happenstance. The dirt heaps were properly guarded by red lights and the hack-driver was wholly to blame. He will be reminded rather forcibly that the department has the right-of-way the next time he interferes.

Mrs. T. Brown is a Milwaukee visitor.

Roy Scott is in Milwaukee.

By Way of Comparison.

Up around the north pole a fish hook is worth a whole lot more than an electric fan.

It may not cost as much as an electric fan to make, but you ask Mr. Esquimaux which he would sooner have.

He'll grab the fish hook every time. Would you cut hard tack when there's pie to be had?

Would you sleep on a floor with a good bed going begging?

Would you sit in the gallery and pay for an orchestra chair?

Would you hire a cab and then run behind it?

Would you lose good customers by failing to advertise your goods enthusiastically?

There are two ways of getting away from competition: one is to cut prices so low that the other fellows can't touch them, and that's an expensive way for you to adopt.

There's no money in that game.

The other is to place on your floor goods which are so much better than the other fellows' that they stand right out and impress everyone who comes along that your buying judgment is A-1 plus. Then tell the people about the goods and about your methods. It may be hard to buy good goods reasonably, but that is the test of the merchant. The better the merchant the better advertiser he will make.

Real Estate Transfers.

SCIENCE NOTES

Frauds to the handling of goods in the customs office, by which the government has lost a great deal of money, are to be obviated by the employment of automatic weighing machines at the New York city docks. The inventor of these machines is Frank Davis, who did the work in connection with F. J. Blake, an expert connected with the Treasury Department, and the two men have been working on the device for several years past. The government officials have been endeavoring for some time to get a machine to prevent the frauds, which have been very extensive. Some of the scale manufacturers of the country could be urged to undertake the construction of such a machine. The officials of the Treasury Department then endeavored to reach the inventor of the scale, but he was not successful. Twenty machines are now in the course of construction and will soon be installed. The patent will be controlled by the government and the inventor will secure a royalty.

An organization has been formed in Copenhagen for the purpose of developing the resources of Greenland. Up to the present almost the only products known were walrus, which deposits are now extensively worked, and coal deposits. The recent explorations show that there is to be found graphite of a very good quality, besides asbestos, mica and iron. It is also reported that copper is abundant in Greenland. At present it is already taken out at the Aidsuogssak mine.

Linen Suits Half Price

You can now select any linen suit in the stock at just one-half the regular price, and as all garments are marked in plain figures, no guess work is necessary. The linen suits we show are in a class by themselves as to style and are such as are favored by dressy women. Whether it's a $7.50 suit at $3.75 or a $35 one at $17.50, you can be sure of the style.

Millinery Specials

Everything in the stock in the hat line, whether trimmed or untrimmed, is now on sale at half price, and if you need something to freshen up your summer wearing apparel, here's the opportunity to do so at a small outlay. Reduced prices as well on Flowers, Feathers, Ornaments and all classes of trimmings.

July Reductions

They are in force on every line needed for women's wear, such as waists, separate skirts, separate coats, muslin underwear, hosiery, gloves, belts, bags, neckwear. Whatever your needs they can be supplied here at a saving.

Natural Pongee Coats $12.50

Just received from New York a dozen 52 to 54 inch length natural pongee coats, semi-fitted, trimmed with black satin collars and cuffs and large buttons. These are the swell coats for summer wear and no two are alike, a fact which will appeal to critical women. Regular values would be $20 to $27.50, special at $12.50.

Wool Suits at $8

There is great interest in the present sale of tailored suits at this special price, which takes in all suits which were originally priced up to $27.50. There are many weeks yet when these suits can be worn and at such a price they are a wise purchase. There is still a good selection to choose from at $8.00

TO ALL USERS OF FLOUR

We are now selling more Flour than any other one store in the city. Why? Because we are selling the . . . . .

FALCON BRAND

which is one of the very best and from 10c to 25c per sack less.

We intend to sell a larger portion. How? Commencing Monday, July 19, we will have a lady at our store to demonstrate to all just what the Flour is. That it is the equal, if not a little better than the Flour you are now using, we care not what the brand. She will be here all that week.

Every family using Flour is cordially invited to witness the demonstration and see for yourself. We claim to make just as white bread, just as sweet, and just as many loaves to the sack as any Flour in the city.

QUALITY OF FALCON

The Columbus Laboratories of Chicago made the following test using the best patent flour made as a standard by which to test Falcon:

CHICAGO, Aug. 25, 1908.
SHANNON & MOTT COMPANY, Des Moines, Iowa.
Dear Sir: We beg leave to report on Comparative Flour Test as follows:

	Standard Spring Patent.	Sample Number 6941
Gluten—Per Cent	10.5	10.2
Ash—Per Cent	10.5	10.2
Absorption—Per Cent	62	62
Color	100.0	100.0
Loaves Per Barrel	100.0	100.0
Size of Loaf	100.0	100.0
Quality of Loaf	100.0	100.0
Average Value	100.0	98.5
Formulating Period	100.0	101.5
Quality of Gluten	100.0	101.5

NOTE—In the above report the gluten and the ash are expressed as parts in each one hundred parts of the flour. The absorption is the amount of water necessary to add to one hundred parts of the flour to make a dough of standard stiffness. The remaining values are so expressed as to show the relations to the standard flour which for the purpose is given a value of 100 per cent. The loaves produced are made under carefully controlled and uniform conditions and baked in accurately gauged baking cylinders in an electric oven. The value expressed as quality of loaf is based upon the color, flavor and texture of the bread. The AVERAGE VALUE expressed in per cent is the mean value, of color, loaves per barrel, size of loaf and quality of loaf. It should not be taken alone in comparing the value of flours, but each of the factors of which it is made up should receive consideration.

GENERAL REMARKS: 6941 is sample marked Falcon. Aug. 22, 1908. Very respectfully submitted,
THE COLUMBUS LABORATORIES.

MODERN WAY OF LIVING
Has a Tendency to Weaken the Strongest.

One hundred years ago there was less kidney trouble than there is today.

The worry, hurry, and overwork of modern living doubles the work of the kidneys, wears and weakens them until unable to properly do their duty of filtering the poisons from the blood. As a result the whole system runs down.

Need the slightest symptom of kidney trouble—the first backache, the first irregularity of the urine. It may be the forerunner of dangerous disease. You can cure yourself quickly with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Read the experience of a Janesville citizen.

Chas. W. Allen, living in Janesville, Wis., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and can recommend them as a good remedy and one that can be relied upon. I suffered from kidney trouble for a long time, and although I used different preparations, I received no relief. Finally I procured Doan's Kidney Pills from the People's Drug Co. and began their use. In a few days my trouble left and it has never returned."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

THREE KILLED, TWO HURT

IN ILLINOIS TRAIN WRECK

Head-On Collision Between C. & E. I. Passengers at Royal—Injured Are All Employees.

Champaign, Ill., July 17.—In a head-on collision between passenger trains on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad at Royal three men were killed and several injured, two seriously.

The dead: W. E. Barker, engineer, Chicago; Nelson Paulson, fireman, Villa Grove; P. H. Hollenbeck, express messenger, Chicago.

The injured: R. Berker, engineer, Villa Grove; Oscar Thomas, express messenger, Chicago.

An open switch was responsible for the wreck. Passenger train No. 26 was on the siding to permit No. 23 to pass. The latter took the switch traveling at the rate of 50 miles an hour. The impact was terrible. Engine No. 23 was smashed and the front end of the express car was crushed like an eggshell. The damage to the engine of No. 26 was small and the express car on the south-bound train was the only one to leave the track. Aside from a severe shaking up the passengers on both trains escaped without injury.

It took only a few minutes for the crew, aided by passengers, to remove the dead and injured from the wreckage. The injured were removed to Villa Grove and the dead were taken into the little station at Royal to await the coroner's inquest.

SIGEL STRANGLER IN LONDON.
American Claims to Have Seen Leon Ling on Street.

London, July 17.—According to a report made by a visiting American to the Scotland yard authorities, Leon Ling, the Chinaman suspected of the murder of Elsie Sigel in New York on June 1, was seen outside a Jeweler's shop near the Royal Exchange.

This American, who wishes his name withheld for the present, told the police he knew Ling in New York and that he was confident the Chinaman he saw was Ling. When the American caught sight of Ling he went up to a policeman standing near by and said: "That man is wanted for murder in New York; go and grab him."

The policeman, however, appears to have suspected the American of some ulterior motive, and while he heeded the Chinaman got away.

Scotland Yard showed a photograph of Ling to the American. He gave the police a full description of the European clothes worn by the Chinaman. Photographs of Leon Ling have been sent to all the London police stations and active search for the Chinaman is being made.

Mining Dispute Is Settled.
Pittsburg, Kan., July 17.—T. L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and James H. Platt, president of the Southwestern Interstate Coal Operators association, sitting as a board of arbitration, settled the points at issue between the miners and operators in this community.

In some of your money "fled up" in land or stocks—lost so lightly that no part of it seems available? Did you ever seek the help of some little business want ads in "untying tied-up money?"

MISSING TELLER A SUICIDE.
White Plains, N. Y., July 17.—With a revolver still in his right hand, the body of Harold C. Cox, teller of the Home Savings bank, who has been missing from his home here since July 5, was found in the woods. Cox's accounts at the bank were correct.

BISHOP SHANLEY FOUND DEAD.
Head of Catholic Church in North Dakota Apoplexy Victim.

Fargo, N. D., July 17.—Bishop John Shanley of the Roman Catholic diocese of North Dakota was found dead in his room in the Episcopal residence last evening. He worked up to a late hour Thursday night and his secretary did not begin to be concerned until late in the afternoon. He then went to the bishop's room and found that he had died of apoplexy.

Bishop Shanley was born in Allentown, N. Y., in 1852, and moved to St. Paul in 1857. He was educated at the College of the Propaganda, Rome, receiving his D. D. degree in 1874. He was consecrated bishop of Fargo in 1889.

TAKES MAN'S BODY FROM HEARSE
Cincinnati Coroner Stops Funeral Procession to Examine Corpse.

Cincinnati, July 17.—A funeral procession, accompanying the body of Harry Waymeyer, was halted on the way to a cemetery and the body was taken to the morgue under orders from Coroner Cox, for a post-mortem examination to ascertain whether Waymeyer had died from a knife wound alleged to have been inflicted upon him during a family quarrel.

The funeral procession moved slowly after the interruption and the post-mortem quickly performed, showed that the man had died from peritonitis and appendicitis. The burial after the interruption took place without further incident.

Glidden Tourists Leave Minneapolis.
Minneapolis, Minn., July 17.—The Glidden tourists, who arrived in this city yesterday afternoon, left this morning for Winona. The Studebaker, No. 1008, driven by George Meisenger, was first to arrive.

Great Fleet in the Thames.
London, July 17.—One hundred and forty-eight British warships dropped anchor in the Thames last night.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

WHICH OF THESE 5 FREE BOOKS TELL-ING ABOUT OUR HOME-MAKING PLAN IN SUNNY SOUTHERN ALBERTA DO YOU WANT?

No. 1—"FACTS"—72 pages, illustrated, showing agricultural conditions in Southern Alberta, and the famous Bow River Valley in soil, climate, combination farms, the production of cereals, alfalfa, timothy, stock-raising, etc.

No. 2—"STARTING A FARM"—on the amount of capital required to start a farm in Southern Alberta. It also shows the advantage that a farm here offers to the city man as a place to raise his family and acquire wealth. No question that the city resident might ask but is answered.

No. 3—"ANIMAL HUSBANDRY"—on diversified farming and stock-raising. This book gives the business aspect of the industry. Shows that live stock feeding and dairy production on the rich alfalfa meadows there lead to certain success.

No. 4—"STAFF OF LIFE"—45-page book dealing with winter wheat production, giving land values, market, expert opinions and comparative crop statistics.

No. 5—"PUBLIC OPINION CONCERNING THE BOW RIVER VALLEY"—a 48-page publication giving the opinions of the most prominent writers on the continent coupled with the statements of farmers actually settled on the land.

I wish to say that I personally know the facts in the above letter to be true, as I was on Mr. Marcellan Holinger's property, looked over his land and saw the crop in his granary, which he says, sold for 78¢ per bushel. J. L. HAY.

Mr. Holinger came from Colorado. Write to him if you wish, but be sure to write to me for any of our free books shown here—I'll send you such facts as will cause you "to sit up nights" to read them. There is no free lunch in such letters as these from the actual men with their families on homes that the crops have paid for in from 1 to 2 or 3 years—clear.

Get all the facts now. Decide what to do after investigating thoroughly. That cost you absolutely nothing. Thousands of people in the United States are writing and securing choice reservations for home farming. Don't delay a day longer. Write and investigate this splendid opportunity. Just ask for one or more of these books.

IN OBERAMMERGAU ON JULY FOURTH

MISS BELLE SHERER TELLS OF MEMORABLE HOLIDAY.

FAR FROM WORLD'S NOISE

Entertained Under the Roof of Anton Lang, the "Christ" of Famous Passion Play.

Miss Clara Belle Sherer, who is to be in Berlin tomorrow and is soon to visit Holland and Belgium and take the famous Rhine trip from Mayence, describes in her latest letter the party's farewell to Switzerland; wonderful nights of grand opera; a pilgrimage into the Bavarian Tyrol; and a memorable day under the roof of Anton Lang, the "Christ" of the Passion Play which is presented at the end of every decade in the little village of Oberammergau.

Pension Black, Munich, July 24, '00.

Well, I am now in a little of it, yet am perfectly crazy about it.

We traveled all day today, being on the train from 5 to 1 o'clock, then crossed Lake Konstanz on the steamer, where we had a fine German cooked lunch, then at 2 p. m. boarded another train and rode until 6, when we reached Munich.

We found the depot not unlike the North-Western in Chicago, the difference being that there were fewer trains on the track and there were no crowds of rushing Americans, but lots of slow Germans with their baggage.

As always, our luggage had to go through the custom house and two of the trunks inspected. It has so happened that neither my trunk nor suitcase has ever been opened by the officers and I hope they will not make up for it when I come home.

The pension where we are stopping is delightful, being more like home than any place we have been, so much smaller of course than the grand hotels we have visited. The landlady is young and pretty and very dainty. The living rooms are so cozy and cute and tonight we had a regular home supper, instead of a dinner. You can't imagine how good it seemed to actually have hot tea and sauce.

As far as the bedrooms, we are all delighted with them, they are furnished so homelike.

I have the nicest large room with lovely furniture, both ornamental and comfortable and an immense window looking out over the garden.

In one corner is the quaintest German stove and the room is lovely and warm, while outside the cooler than Greenland.

I wrote a week ago from Interlaken and told of our good times there. The splendid band was something that you would have greatly enjoyed. Evenings it played in the Kurpark joining our hotel and it was lovely to go to the beautiful hall, sit around the tables and watch the people, while we listened to the music.

Went to bed with music, slept in the morning with it and heard it in the afternoon. If we wished to, we could have it all day.

On Sunday, the weather allowed us to take one of the finest drives of the whole trip. In the sweetest outfit. We had sort of tall-ho coaches, with two high seats, front and back, beside the driver's seat and three large white horses, driven tandem. It was great.

We drove through the Saubach valley, past the dear Swiss chalets, villages and the Staubbach falls, and then visited the Trummelbach falls, which are five in number and a wonderful sight as they dash in perfect torrents over the rocks.

All this was beyond description, so very beautiful.

We drove from lunch to dinner time, about thirty miles.

Monday was another day of traveling. First by boat, across lovely Lake Helenz, where we saw the Glosbach Falls and then by train, over Brunnig Pass, which was perfectly beautiful. I never hope to see prettier scenery.

We reached Lucerne about 2 p. m.

The postcards will show you this beautiful place and the Grand hotel, where we spent so many happy days, situated beside the lake, with the lovely mountains in the background.

The first evening there we went to grand opera and heard T'Pacchiel, which was simply splendid.

I am crazy over the music and hum the tenor solo all the time.

One never heard a finer orchestra, which was under the leadership of Pannigalli, who is the conductor of the famous Milan orchestra, which is the largest in the world.

The next night we went again to "Cavalleria Rusticana" and heard Cavallotti too. It was fine and she was perfectly lovely, the most finished, graceful and delightful actress we really saw in an unusually fine singer.

She stood at our hotel and we really could not get our minds, as we were so fascinated by her and watched her every move.

The third night we went again to grand opera, that evening the first acts of three operas being given.

First came "Fodora," in which our lovely Cavallotti took the leading part, second "Boheme," which was very good and third "T'Pacchiel" again and we enjoyed it more than ever.

The packed hotel applauded and applauded and none kept their seats in their delighted excitement.

The singers and orchestra were showered with flowers and everyone was sorry to depart.

Those were the last three nights of that opera company and we have never ceased to congratulate ourselves on our being there.

The orchestra gave afternoon concerts and Aunt Cele and I went to one of those.

One afternoon we went across the lake to the very end and visited William Tell's chapel.

The lake is beautiful, superior to Geneva, and even in the rain we enjoyed it immensely.

I must tell you what happened one day when we were in Cook's office. We came upon Neil Smith, Case and Archie and you can't imagine our surprise.

It seems that they have been in Europe for over a year for Mrs. Case's health, the climate in Manila not agreeing with her. Mr. Case was expected on Thursday to meet them and they will remain until fall, then go back to America to live.

Archie is a tall, slender youth and very nice looking.

Thursday noon we left Lucerne for the Falls of the Rhine at Neuchâtel. Of all delightful places that is surely one of them. We arrived into it the afternoon and found a fine hotel facing the falls. They are so pretty, as the sun shines upon them bringing forth the loveliest shades of green and rainbow tints.

There was music all the afternoon and evening and about 9 p. m. we went out into the beautiful gardens to see a real 4th of July celebration.

There were fireworks out on the island and great illuminations in red and green thrown upon the falls which was a lovely sight.

Again we were fortunate, in being here the one night of celebration, July 4th.—Am sending you cards from Oberammergau, where we spent the 4th.

This place is far from the noise of the world, hemmed in on three sides by high mountains and in the midst of a thinly populated country.

Here about 1400 souls dwell in comfort and quiet, in their whitewashed houses, which are frequently adorned with paintings, representing scenes from the Bible.

The house which is pictured on one of the cards is that of Anton Lang, the one who takes the part of Christ in the Passion Play.

The double door leads into the residence and the corner one into his parting shop, which is full of pretty things.

While we were at dinner in this house Anton Lang came in to talk to Aunt Cele and we were all crazy over him.

He is perfectly grand, just as he looks in the picture I enclose, always so sweet and simple in spite of his many praises.

He signed his name below my picture, a thing he will do for no one next year.

His wife is very pleasing and little Karl and Toni, who acted as our guides to the village church, are perfect gems.

I am proud to have come in such close contact with them and shall never forget the honor.

The picture of the theatre no doubt looks queer to you and maybe small, but it is very large and in style and flash its equal is hard to be found in all Europe.

There are 3378 numbered seats, besides room for 3,000 persons to stand in case of necessity.

Would like to give a full description of the stage and the armaments used, which we saw. The combinations of colors in those gowns were most beautiful.

Aunt Cele bought her tickets for the play a year from next September and there were already 800 seats sold.

Our day there was delightful and we enjoyed the ride home at sunset, when the lights and smiles on the mountains were gorgeous. C. H. S.

MONROE HORSE HAS MADE GOOD RECORD

Knight of Strathmore, Three Year Old Has Set World's Record for Half Mile Heats.

Special to the Gazette.

Monroe, Wis., June 12.—Knight of Strathmore, a three year old, which has been beating all the three year olds in the races in which he has started this season, was driven an exhibition mile in 2:08 at Terre Haute, Ind., after winning a race with Miss Eva Wilkes, a pacing filly that was touted to win. The Monroe horse won in 2:11 1/2 and then made it in 2:08 alone.

The horse holds the world's record for half mile heats for three year olds and it is expected he will become the world's champion for mile heats. The horse will likely now be taken out of his class and started in the 2:10 and free-for-all class, and get his mark. He is entered at the state fair in Milwaukee and at the Green county fair.

Two Model Barns.

Two large modern barns were raised here yesterday, one on the farm of Edwin Ludlow, which is 12x38 feet, and another on the farm of John Haddiman, four miles east of the city, which is 36x48 feet. Seventy men were at the Ludlow farm and sixty at the Haddiman farm to put up the frames. Both barns will be equipped with ventilators, automatic watering systems, cement floors, etc.

The Ludlow barn will be lighted by electricity and will have more window light than any other barn in Green county. It will be a model barn in every respect.

Gunshot Wound.

Byron Bennett, a nephew of Mrs. George E. King of Janesville, is a patient at the Loofton hospital as a result of a gunshot wound that lacerated the first two toes of the right foot. He was out shooting owls and while resting his hammerless shotgun on his foot the gun was discharged and the lead passed through his foot. He is a son of Dr. C. W. Bennett.

CIRCUS FULL OF NOVELTIES.

Wonderful Animal Acts Prominent Feature of Barnum & Bailey Show.

When the Barnum and Bailey greatest show on earth visits Janesville on Friday, July 20, people will be given an opportunity of seeing the greatest trained animal features ever introduced by any circus since their beginning.

In one of the educated animal numbers is presented the most remarkable herd of elephants that have ever been seen. The big beasts have been trained to play on musical instruments. Their heads are fastened to trombones and horns and to the beating of time by their trunks they produce harmonious music. The elephants have been further trained to pick up with their trunks Swiss bells and play melodies that are not at all simple. The playing of harmonicas is also one of their accomplishments. With the elephants in their act are five handsome young women who assist in making it effective.

Many other trained animals perform feats that cause people to open their eyes wide in astonishment. There are wonderful pigs and big fat geese. There is a troupe of fox terriers which takes part in a football game and play it with considerable enthusiasm. A big African ape performs a great act with a pony. In addition there are educated cats, dogs, mules and other animals.

The display of intelligence on the part of horses is a remarkable one. A troupe of sixteen Hungarian stallions performs feats that made a sensation in Europe. The animals, all strictly handsome, are making a sensation wherever they are seen in this country.

Johnny Short and his trained horse, a dwarf animal that looks like a big dachshund, furnished an act that is simply great from the viewpoint of those who see it. Cliffe Horner, a puma and wildable mules, including the animal that performs on the top of a revolving table, contribute one of the most novel acts in the circus.

Always foremost in green that over in the lead in this department this season. Every one of the riders this year is a celebrity. The Konyot family do the most wonderful riding feats that the world has known. In this family are six people and they build pyramids and do astonishing acrobatic work while on the back of the swiftly moving horse they use. Among the other noted equestrians are Ella Bradman, Fred Derrick, Orrin, Mac and Victoria Davenport, William Seligier, Gus Kraft, W. D. Winslow and Julia Shipp. Some of the riding is graceful and beautiful, while a good deal of it is actually sensational.

The star horse in the circus is Jupiter, an animal which goes up in a balloon to the highest point under the dome of the main tent. He stands with his woman rider on a platform that is only large enough to hold him. There is no railing on the platform and the animal is not fastened in any way. The descent of the horse is made as rockets boom around him and envelop him with thousands of sparks.

HAIL DID DAMAGE IN FULTON TOWN

Area Three Miles Square Was Severely Pelted During Storm Early Thursday Morning.

According to reports from the town of Fulton, a severe hail-storm of four o'clock Thursday morning did great damage to the tobacco, rice, corn, and oat crops over an area three miles square. The storm came from the southwest and lasted about half an hour. In some instances the ground is said to have been covered by the hail-stones to a depth of two inches and the plants literally stripped or cut down. Janesville was visited by a heavy rain which lasted only a few minutes. Hail is also reported to have done considerable damage south and west of this city.

By RUTH CAMERON

L OOK, Miss Cameron," she said, and held up the third finger of her left hand with evident pride.

When the congratulations, which were not much more than a matter of form, since the whole neighborhood had long since expressed its approval of the match, were completed, I bent over the ring to examine it more closely.

Four girls in the vicinity had recently become engaged. Each succeeding one had had a diamond just a wee bit larger than her predecessor. The last diamond, I had heard it reckoned, must have taken all the savings of the prospective groom.

Blaine had always seemed to me a girl with a good deal of common sense, and I had felt much interest as to her part in this little contest.

Much to my astonishment her ring was not a diamond at all. It was a beautiful old matrix quaintly carved with some old Egyptian inscription.

"I know what you're thinking," she said, with a laugh as I examined it. "You are wondering how it happened. Well, I'll tell you. When we decided to announce it I talked the matter of a ring over with Paul. He had been saving quite a while and he wanted to take a good proportion of his savings out of the bank and get me a beautiful ring."

"But I knew that when it came to furnishing our apartment, we would need a good deal of money," Blaine remarked her nose in a most housewifely way—"and I said I didn't want him to buy me an expensive ring. I could have that later, and besides I didn't want a diamond that didn't mean anything and was just like anybody else's except for being larger or smaller."

"Of course he didn't like the idea of my not having as lovely a ring as the other girls, but I talked him into reason and the next week he brought me this."

"You see it is an opal, which is my birthstone and which I've always been very fond of. And the carving is the Egyptian for a beautiful sentiment that we both love."

"I know most of the girls will be sorry for me because it is not as expensive as theirs but I just love this and I hope some day I will have the diamonds too."

I told my little friend just what I thought of her courage and individuality and common sense.

It has become somewhat the style now to have a plain gold band as engagement ring and use it also for a wedding ring. I don't quite like that but I do think the ring that stands for one of the most beautiful periods of a girl's life ought to be something more than a vulgar attempt to outdo one's neighbor in the matter of expense.

If I were a girl about to be engaged, I should want a ring that belonged peculiarly to myself and my beloved and could not just as well have been given by any man to any girl.

Normal Musical Academy.—It gave us genuine satisfaction to meet in our office this morning Prof. Palmer, the Principal of the Normal Musical Academy which commences its session in this city Monday next. It will be remembered with great pleasure by those who participated in the benefits of the musical instruction imparted by him on the occasion of his visit to Janesville last summer. Prof. Ladden, a co-laborer of Prof. P., is also in the city, and Messrs. Root and Matthews will arrive here on Monday. No one with a musical ear should fail to avail themselves of the privileges offered by the Musical Academy, and the instructions which will be imparted by these gentlemen, who are eminent in their profession.

Y. M. C. A. Excursion.—The excursion by the Young Men's Association yesterday, is spoken of by all who participated therein as an excellent success. The net receipts amounted to the handsome sum of $500, which we understand will be appropriated to the purchase of books for the library. This association numbering among its members the best young men of the city, has accomplished a great good for this community and is deserving of the generous patronage and cordial confidence of our citizens. They will be happy to greet at the new and elegant rooms over the post-office at their regular weekly meetings on Friday evening, all who may honor them with their presence. We cannot do a more worthy thing than aid with all our might, the Young Men's Association.

Woman's Bright Idea.

It was a woman who had an idea when her chickens kept disappearing from the roost. She painted the legs red and when six disappeared in one night she went with a policeman to the place where chickens were often for sale and in one crate found her fowls all dressed for the market, but still with their painted legs.

Successful.

"I started out on the theory that the world had an opening for me, and I went to find it. 'Did you find it?' 'Oh, yes, I'm in a hole.'"
